Conference expands due to response

Due to an overwhelming response Milton Keynes Women and Work Group have expanded its upcoming conference.

The event on Friday, March 13, has captured the interest of successful women throughout Milton Keynes, who are eagerly offering to donate their time to attend.

Seeking to improve economic conditions for Women in Milton Keynes, the event will now be held at The Holiday Inn Hotel in Central Milton Keynes.

The confirmed attendees include Leader of MK Council, Councillor Isobel McCall and The Mayor of Milton Keynes Councillor Jan Lloyd. Attendees range across Voluntary, Public and Business sector organisations such as Milton Keynes College, The Open University, MKCVO, Women's Aid & John Lewis.

As well as being a forum for generating ideas, the morning will include: details from the latest research exploring 'Women's Journey to Sexual Equality' (Women and Work's current research publication); the launch of Women and Work's new initiative 'Women

Supporting Women' and an opportunity to network with other local successful women. The event will be facilitated by Sue Lickorish of infusion coaching & development who has kindly donated her time.

Women and Work would like to extend their thanks to the Holiday Inn, who are providing the facilities at a reduced rate as their donation to the Symposium. There are still a few places left, so if you would like to take part telephone Janice Jones on 01908 200186 or 01908 200676 to reserve your place
